The National Commodity Supplemental Food Program Association (NCSFPA) is seeking sponsors for our 2023 national conference:

"All Shook Up for Seniors"

October 2 - October 4, 2023

Sheraton Hotel in Memphis, Tennessee

*Registration and vendor check-in October 1st

NCSFPA is a member organization of state agencies, community organizations, and food banks who operate the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP). Our mission is to provide leadership in program advocacy, sustainability, and opportunities to share practices and resources. The vision of the NCSFPA is to ensure that seniors have the food security needed to support their health and comfort during their golden years.

The national conference is an opportunity for these organizations to come together to learn, network, and share best practices. Over 150 attendees are expected at this year's conference. As we continue plans for the conference, our organization is reaching out for help. The Vendors and Sponsors Committee is working to bring in sponsors and vendors to the conference who would like to develop or currently have a direct connection to the work we do. We welcome local and national vendors and organizations to support our conference.

The following page details how your organization can become a sponsor for this event in one of five levels!

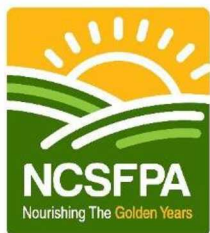

To register to become a sponsor for the 2023 NCSFPA national conference contact Lindsay Sgambato (lsgambato@rfoodbank.org or ncsfppa@gmail.com)

We truly appreciate your support and sponsorship. Your contribution helps us to come together as a community to meet one common goal: to better serve our seniors while providing them with this vital program.

Sincerely,
The NCSFPA Board of Directors
